INTRODUCTION

Key Findings in the Stat Pack for the 2024-25 Term

Steady Decline of Unanimity. 42% of cases were decided unanimously this term – compared to 44% in the previous term and 50% in the 2022-23 term.

6-3 Decisions. Eleven decisions or 15% of decided cases were by 6-3 split votes.

Ideological Splits in Closely Divided Cases. The Court divided 6-3 with Justices Sotomayor, Kagan, and Jackson dissenting in 9% of the opinions and with Justices Thomas, Alito, Gorsuch dissenting in 6% of the opinions. Including 5-4 opinions, all three of the Court's liberal justices were together in dissent in 15% of the cases. Decisions with three or more conservative justices in dissent made up 15% of cases as well and decisions with only conservative justices in the dissent made up 28% of the cases.

Roberts at the Helm. Chief Justice John Roberts was in the majority most frequently at 95% in all cases, 92% in non-unanimous cases, and 90% in closely divided cases, and he did not write a single separate opinion this term. Justice Kavanaugh was in the majority second most frequently in all cases at 92%, followed by Justice Barrett at 89%.

Liberals Gaining Ground. Justice Kagan was in the majority 83% of the time in all cases this term – which was more common than Justices Thomas, Gorsuch, and Alito, who were each in the majority 78% of the time. Justice Sotomayor was also in the majority 78% of the time.

Top Alignments at the Poles. The top alignment in all cases was between Justices Alito and Thomas at 97% of the time, while Justices Jackson and Sotomayor are next at 94%. Chief Justice Roberts and Justice Kavanaugh – who have aligned together more than any other justice pair in previous terms – aligned 91% of the time.

Circuit Cases and Reversals. Cases from the First, Fourth, Ninth, and Tenth Circuits were reversed 100% of the time. The Fifth Circuit had the most total cases reversed, with ten, though three were affirmed—resulting in a 77% reversal rate. This term was unusual in that the Ninth Circuit, which is typically the most reviewed, had fewer than one-third as many cases decided as the Fifth Circuit. Even the Fourth Circuit had twice as many cases decided—eight compared to the Ninth Circuit's four.

TOTAL OPINIONS OVER TIME

Please note that the Stat Pack only focuses on "Opinions of the Court" and not "Opinions Relating to Orders," the latter which includes several of the cases on the so-called emergency/shadow docket

Figure shows the volume & proportion of opinions (by type) authored by the court between the 2005 and 2024 terms. Data from earlier terms were retrieved from the Supreme Court Database. Opinions delivered per curiam are coded as a majority opinion, while special concurrences (in part) and those concurring in judgment are both coded as concurrences.

UNANIMOUS DECISIONS

This figure shows the percentage of unanimous decisions (i.e., cases decided without any full dissents) between OT05-OT24. These include decisions reached per curiam without any noted dissents. Dashed red line represent longitudinal average (44.5%).

FREQUENCY IN THE MAJORITY – All Cases

Figure shows the percentage of cases where each justice was in the majority coalition among all cases that they participated in (including those decided unanimously, per curiam, or dismissed as improvidently granted). Note: Given that majority and dissenting votes were not indicated, these percentages do not include any votes from the court's equally divided decision in Drummond.

FREQUENCY IN THE MAJORITY – Non-Unanimous Cases

Figure shows the percentage of cases where each justice was in the majority coalition among cases decided without a unanimous majority.

FREQUENCY IN THE MAJORITY – Closely Divided Cases

Figures show the percentage of cases where each justice was in the majority coalition among cases decided by (5-4) or (6-3) coalitions.

JUSTICE AGREEMENT – All Cases

Agreement can be understood as justices similarly aligning in the majority (or dissenting) coalition – where those who concur (fully, in part, or in judgment) are similarly considered as part of the majority.

JUSTICE AGREEMENT – Closely Divided Cases

STRENGTH OF THE MAJORITY

Only cases with a signed majority opinion are included in this analysis – cases decided per curiam with no signed majority opinion are omitted. Glossip is included here as a (6-3) opinion.

DECISIONS BY VOTE SPLIT – All Cases

2005-2024 Terms

2020-2024 Terms

2024 Term

Figures show the percent of cases decided by different coalition sizes between the 2005 and 2024 terms. For instances where justices were recused or did not participate in an otherwise unanimous decision, we coded these as unanimous (e.g., 8-0 decisions were included in calculating 9-0 coalitions).

DECISIONS BY VOTE SPLIT– Ideologically Split Cases

2005-2024 Terms

2020-2024 Terms

2024 Term

Figures show the percent of cases decided by ideologically split coalitions (e.g., 5-4 or 6-3), such that ideologically liberal and conservative justices represent competing coalitions. Ideology was derived by referencing each justices' associated Martin-Quinn score. For reference, such a split during the 2024 term would be a majority consisting of Chief Justice Roberts and Justices Thomas, Alito, Gorsuch, Kavanaugh, and Barrett – with a competing (dissenting) coalition of Justices Sotomayor, Kagan, and Jackson.

CIRCUIT SCORECARD

Court below	# of Cases	# Decided	# Affirmed	# Reversed	% Affirmed	% Reversed
1 st Circuit	2	2	0	2	0%	100%
2 nd Circuit	5	5	2	3	40%	60%
3 rd Circuit	2	2	1	1	50%	50%

D.C. Circuit	5	5	2	3	40%	60%
Fed. Circuit	3	3	1	2	33.3%	66.7%
Total	62	59	15	44

We treat consolidated cases emerging from the same lower court as single entries. Alternatively, we treat Trump v. CASA as three separate entries that reversed the U.S. Courts of Appeal for the First, Fourth, and Ninth Circuits.

* Three cases from the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Ninth Circuit were dismissed as improvidently granted and are not recorded as having been affirmed or reversed.

* Stanley represents a particularly fractured opinion with varying authors and coalitions forming across distinct parts. Given that Justice Jackson is the only justice to dissent in full, the decision is coded as (8-1). Furthermore, although Justice Sotomayor joined Justice Jackson's dissent with respect to elements of Parts III and IV, she joined with the plurality of the court in not reversing the 11th Circuit.
