Opinions Over Time

Notes: (1) Figure shows the volume & proportion of opinions (by type) authored by the Court between the 2005 and 2025 terms. Data from earlier terms were retrieved from the Supreme Court Database. Opinions delivered per curiam are coded as a majority opinion, while special concurrences (in part) and those concurring in judgment are both coded as concurrences. (2) The Stat Pack only focuses on “Opinions of the Court” and not “Opinions Relating to Orders,” the latter of which includes several of the cases on the emergency docket. (3) Goldey v. Fields (24-809) was decided per curiam on June 30, 2025 and was not included in the OT2024-25 Stat Pack.

Unanimity

Description: This figure shows the percentage of unanimous decisions (i.e., cases decided without any full dissents) between OT05-OT25. These include decisions reached per curiam without any noted dissents. Dashed red line represent longitudinal average.

Notes:

Frequency in the Majority – All Cases

Description: Figure shows the percentage of cases where each justice was in the majority coalition among all cases that they participated in (including those decided unanimously, per curiam, or dismissed as improvidently granted).

Notes: (1)

Frequency in the Majority – Non-Unanimous Cases

Description: Figure shows the percentage of cases where each justice was in the majority coalition among cases decided without a unanimous majority.

Notes: (1)

Frequency in the Majority – Closely Divided Cases

Description: Figures show the percentage of cases where each justice was in the majority coalition among cases decided by (5-4) or (6-3) coalitions.

Notes: (1)

Justice Agreement – All Cases

Description: Figure shows the relative agreement (percent) in voting alignment shared between justices in all cases where justices participated during the 2025 term.

Notes: (1) Agreement can be understood as justices similarly aligning in the majority (or dissenting) coalition – where those who concur (fully, in part, or in judgment) are similarly considered as part of the majority.

Justice Agreement – Closely Divided Cases

Description: Figure shows the relative agreement (percent) in voting alignment shared between justices in cases decided by (5-4) or (6-3) coalitions in the 2025 term.

Notes: (1) Agreement can be understood as justices similarly aligning in the majority (or dissenting) coalition – where those who concur (fully, in part, or in judgment) are similarly considered as part of the majority.

Cases Decided with a Single Dissenting Justice

	OT25	Case(s)
Roberts
Thomas
Alito	1	Rico
Sotomayor
Kagan	1	Havana Docks
Gorsuch
Kavanaugh
Barrett
Jackson	1	Chiles

Description (Above): Table above provides an overview of coalition types given different Justices authoring majority opinions. For example, of the 3 majority opinions authored by Justice Neil Gorsuch, 1 are opinions representing a unanimous Court – while 0 of his majority opinions are in cases decided by a (7-2) Court. On average, Justice Gorsuch’s opinions represented majorities of approximately 8.33 Justices.

Description (Below): Table below stratifies opinions decided in OT25 to those decided with a single dissenting Justice. For example, Justice Ketanji Brown Jackson was the sole dissenter in 1 case(s) this term (Chiles)

Notes: (1) Only cases where a sole dissenter authored an opinion are included. For instance, Justice Jackson’s preference to have denied certiorari in Klein v. Martin (25-51) is not included because it does not include a written opinion. (2) Moreover, only cases with a signed majority opinion are included in this analysis – cases decided per curiam with no signed majority opinion are omitted.

Closely Divided Cases

Condition	Percent of All Cases	Cases
6-3 with Justices Sotomayor, Kagan, and Jackson Dissenting	3%	Callais, Zorn
6-3 with Justices Thomas, Alito, and Gorsuch Dissenting	0%
Cases with Justices Sotomayor, Kagan, and Jackson All in Dissent	5%	Callais, Zorn, USPS
Cases with Three or More Conservative Justices Dissenting	5%	Learning Resources, Bowe, Hencely

Decisions by Vote Split – All Cases

2005-2025 Terms

2020-2025 Terms

2025 Term

Description: Figures show the percent of cases decided by different coalition sizes between the 2005 and 2025 terms. For instances where justices were recused or did not participate in an otherwise unanimous decision, we coded these as unanimous (e.g., 8-0 decisions were included in calculating 9-0 coalitions). Notes: (1)

Decisions by Vote Split – Ideologically Split Cases

2005-2025 Terms

2020-2025 Terms

2025 Term

Description: Figures show the percent of cases decided by ideologically split coalitions (e.g., 5-4 or 6-3), such that ideologically liberal and conservative justices represent competing coalitions. Ideology was derived by referencing each justices' associated Martin-Quinn score. For reference, such a split during the 2025 term would be a majority consisting of Chief Justice Roberts and Justices Thomas, Alito, Gorsuch, Kavanaugh, and Barrett – with a competing (dissenting) coalition of Justices Sotomayor, Kagan, and Jackson.

Description (Top-Left): Table provides the average elapsed period (in days) between oral arguments and the rendering of a decision given which Justice authored the opinion. For example, a decision where the majority opinion was authored by Justice Barrett required an average of 89.5 days following oral argument.

Description (Top-Right): Table provides the five decisions with the longest and shortest elapsed periods between oral argument and the rendering of a decision during the 2025 term.

Description (Bottom-Left): Figure shows the average number of days between oral arguments and the rendering of a decision for a case between the 2005 and 2025 terms.

Notes: (1) Longest (Total Combined) table represents cases with the largest total word count combined across the published majority and separate opinions. For example, the 7 opinions published in Learning Resources, Inc. v. Trump (24-1287) totaled approximately 45,000 words – which included both a dissent filed by Justice Kavanaugh ($\approx$ 17,000 words), as well as a separate concurrence filed by Justice Gorsuch ($\approx$ 14,000 words).
